Being Skillful in What We Say

a study in Proverbs

Christian Sanich, 6/24/2018

Text sermon questions, during the sermon, to (602) 824-8030

15:2 The tongue of the wise vs. the mouth of idiots

You have to become skillful with communicating.

We don't want to be perceived as anything like an idiot.

10:19 Talking too much leads to hurting people.

The wise restrain their lips.

Say less.

17:27-28 Restraining your words makes you look smart.

18:2 A fool is always talking, instead of listening and learning.

We should say less, and pay attention to others more.

12:18 Thoughtless words can hurt people.

But if we use our words wisely, we can help people.

15:28 We should ponder what to say before we say it.

We don't want to be anything like the wicked who just let poorly chosen words gush out of their mouths.

16:24 Our words can be a treat to people, which helps them.

Our words affect people to their core, in profound ways.

21:23 Guarding your mouth guards you from troubles.
