13:20 Be best companions with the wise, not fools.

The truly wise are people who are seeking to live skillfully according to God's wisdom.

If you choose to be companions with fools, you will suffer harm.

If you choose your closest companions who are truly wise, you will become better.

18:24 A man of acquaintances brings himself toward ruin, But there is a friend who sticks closer than a brother.

You can find a friend who will love you and stick with you.

27:17 You can be made better by a friend if you choose to listen to them.

27:5-6 The correction of a friend can make us better.

We need to choose to want friends who will do this.

We need to choose to listen to them.

Should we be friends with non-Christians?

Self assessment:

Do you have Christian friends, like the kind of friends we talked about today?

If you don't, do you want them?

If so, are you putting yourself in position to find them?
